Foreword

Each year artists try to capture in oil, water color, and pastels, the artistic beauty of San Antonio. Some paint its natural charms as seen in the San Antonio River. Others paint its people, the crowds that daily throng its streets. For some San Antonio's modern architecture has appeal, while others are captivated by the Spanish atmosphere that pervades its missions. In all these things San Antonio differs from other cities; in these lie the city's singular beauty. This year the Philothean Staff brings you a few of the scenes we enjoy as friends of San Antonio.

With these scenes we try to paint a colorful and moving picture of school life during the year 1956-57. Our pattern is one of class and club activities, showing you life at Providence High.

St. Joseph

This page is a loving tribute to St. Joseph from the annual staffs of '56 and '57.

San Antonio, Our City , Artistically Beautiful

San Antonio, with its Spanish atmosphere and natural beauty, is a growing center of art. People of all ages and occupations appreciate the artistic value of our city.

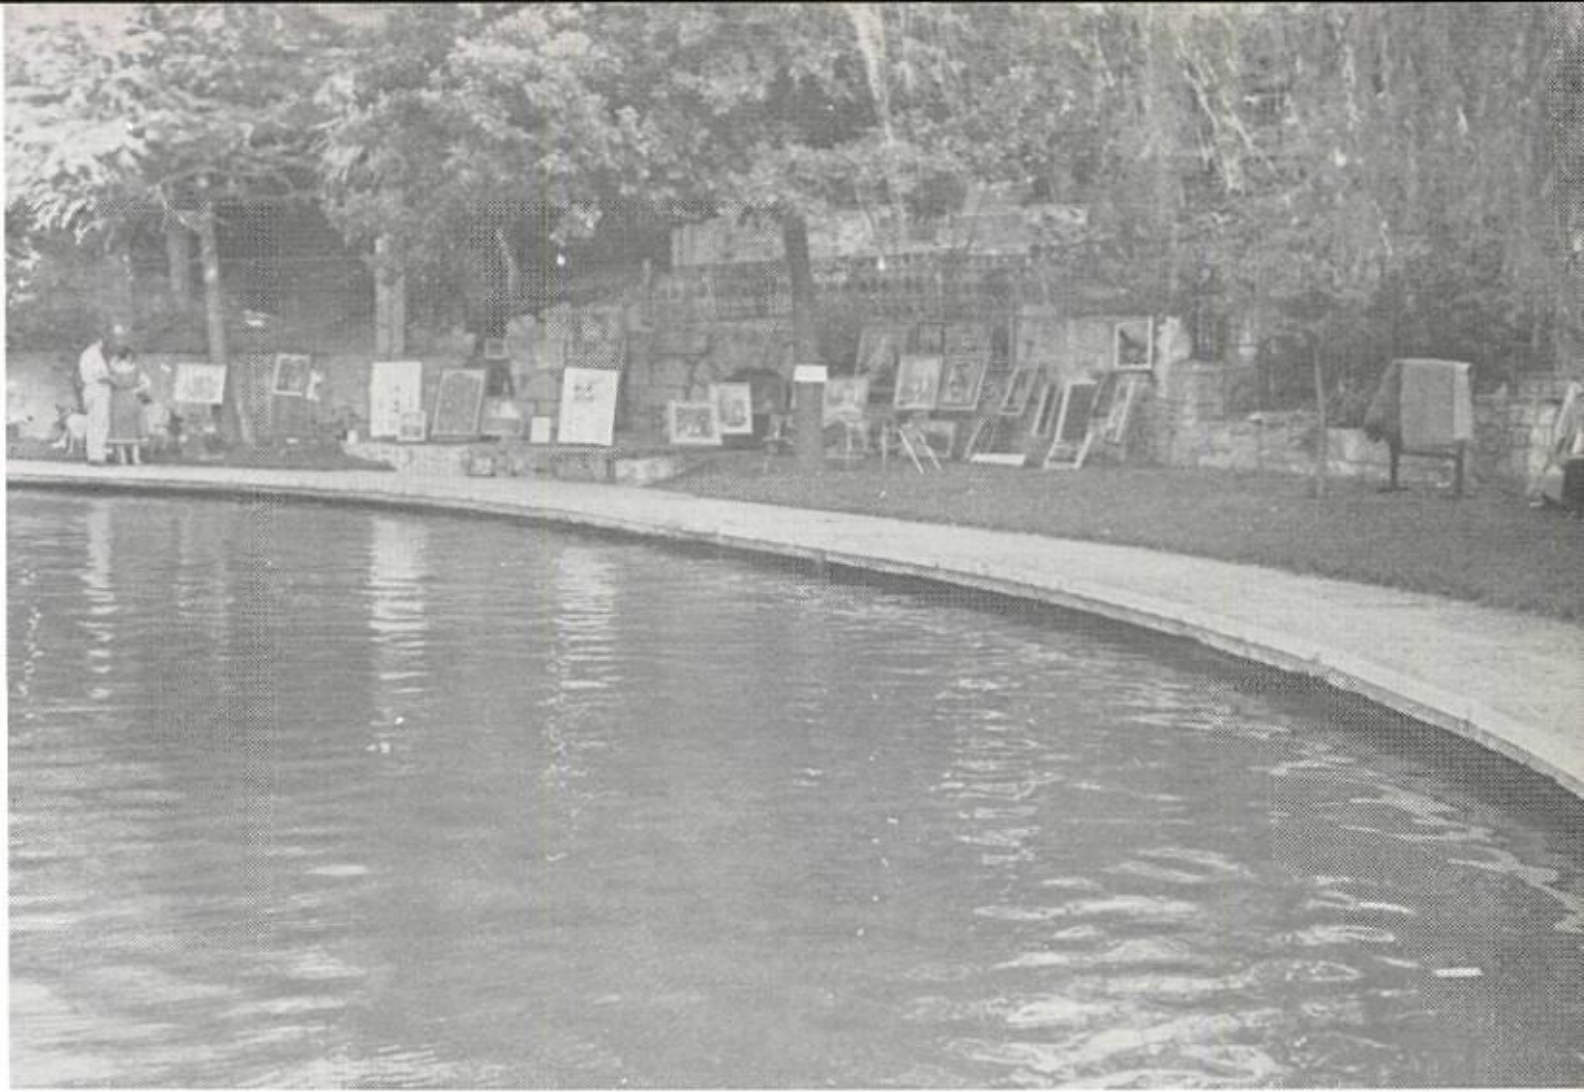

Local artists capture the city on canvas and outsiders join their number. Numerous organizations help further art in San Antonio and institutes offer classes in art and art appreciation. The McNay Art Institute, Pan American Galleries, and the Witte Museum give San Antonio art lovers an opportunity to study fine works of art.

Yearly, local artists exhibit their works in the River Art Show. San Antonians admire paintings and sketches along the river banks.

Because we are proud of the way our city has grown and is growing into a beauty spot of the Southwest, we dedicate this issue of the Philothean to San Antonio, our city artistically beautiful.

This year the Philothean Staff has painted a colorful picture of PHS and her many activities. In the artists studio, the apprentices assisted Liebe Bradicich, master craftsman and annual editor, and Rita Gianotti; the independent workers and assistant editor, in molding, designing, and sketching their work of art.

The layout artists, Kathy Brown, Olga Aldrete, Judy Elder, Pat Dyess, Doris Juenke and Mary Margaret Logan took their slates in hand and produced a rough sketch of the contents of the book. The co-art editors, Patti Popp and Jerry Barbera, gave it a finishing touch of color and beauty.

The painting of the prose found throughout the annual was contributed by the talented pens of Patsy Elder, Janet Yaeger, Margaret McLemore, and Cynthia Vollmer.

Ruth Ann Grams and Gilda Gorrell completed the Philothean with their interesting shots on and around the campus.

Progress

With an eye to the future, Seniors admire modern San Antonio. They find art in the simplicity of twentieth century architecture. Class officers - Dolores Sarro, vice-president; Mary Vials, president; Aliene Stanush, treasurer; and Mary Kay Coffey, secretary - are shown at Alamo Stadium with the city's skyline in the background.

From Aldrete to Zuniga every senior plays an important part in the class that leads the school.

The seniors are required to take homemaking, which includes cooking, sewing, housing, child care, home nursing, and fourth year religion. They are free to choose any elective which they feel will aid them. Some of these are; chemistry, English IV, art, speech, shorthand II, typing II, and clerical office practice.

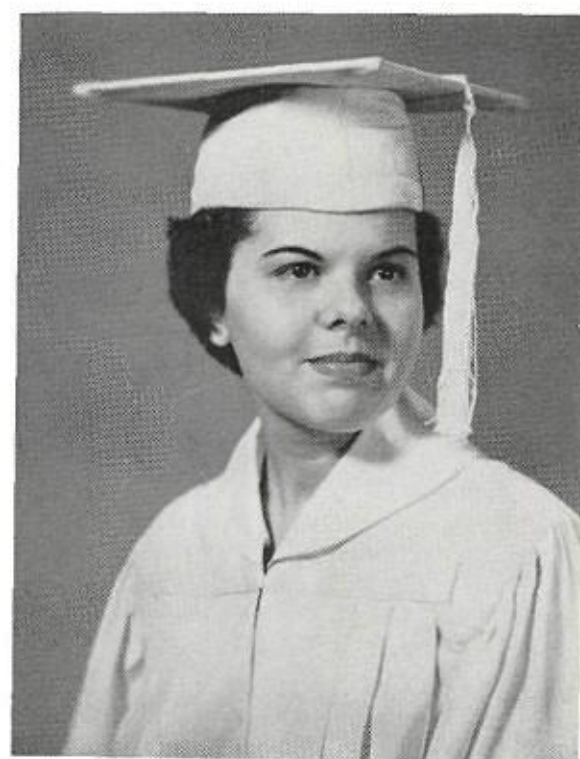

Activities in the senior class range from decorating the halls at Christmas, the Ring Ceremony, to the Senior Luncheon. All of these activities are planned for the girls so that final year of high school will be remembered always.

Juniors Discover City's Old Charm

The quiet charms of the past remind Juniors that beauty is ageless and that the object of true art does not fade but should be cherished through the years. San Antonio offers examples of time-worn art in its lingering Spanish culture. In the center of town, hemmed in by tall buildings, La Villita has preserved the atmosphere of old San Antonio. Junior Class Officers—Bobbe Billmeier, president; Patsy Elder, vice-president; Gay Jordan, secretary; and Judy Britton, treasurer—visit "the little village."

Although a portrait cannot be described with words alone, we would like to paint for you a picture of the Juniors, Class of '58.

Start off with the vital canvas of religion and the background of American history. Paint in essentials of English and sharpen with delicate strokes of geometry and typing. Brush on a bit of foreign intrigue in the form of Latin and Spanish. Finishing touches consist of the extra activities of sports and Junior sponsored dances and the picture is almost complete. Frame it with class and school spirit and you have a portrait of the Junior Class.

Sophomores Seek Art in Landscaping

San Antonio is a constant source of inspiration to landscapers. An outstanding example of art in landscaping is found in the Sunken Gardens, Brackenridge Park. Once a stone quarry, today it is a wonder world of pools, bridges, and foliage. Sophomore Class President Ann Whitehead, Vice-President Barbara Lutz, Secretary Doris Juenke, and Treasurer Diane Dingel observe one view of the Sunken Gardens.

Green is a color that symbolizes many things. In the Sophomore class, green is the color for the year, and it symbolizes hope. It is a very appropriate color, since the sophomores never give up hope even when all odds seem to be turning against them. Green also stands for go. This describes the sophomores perfectly, for they are always ready and willing to go out and work for any school project.

When it comes to studying, the Sophomores also rate high. The subjects offered to the Sophomores are religion, English, biology, math or algebra, typing I, languages, Latin or Spanish.

The average sophomore participates in the various class activities, the main one being the Senior Brunch. On this occasion the Sophomores bid farewell to their many friends in the Senior class, as well as the Sophomore Class until the next school year.

Religion Takes Priority Over All

Looking into the future, we freshmen wonder what the years to come will bring. Will they be exciting, hastened, or prolonged? Will they always be remembered?

Looking over the past, the freshman religion course, based on faith, showed us how to gain true happiness. English courses improved daily speech habits, whereas literature and music broadened our knowledge of the finer arts. Algebra and general math were on hand to teach us how to think. History class kept us up on present world affairs and informed us of past events. Homemaking started us on the way to becoming homemakers of tomorrow.

Remembering the events of the past year, with Freshman Day highlighting them, we freshmen eagerly await the years to come.

Commerce Takes Its Place in Art

Houston Street, lined with buildings, in an integral part of the city's life and the hub of many well-organized businesses. Good organization is the key to successful business. Here at Providence, students are trained in leadership through co-curricular organizations. Seen crossing busy Houston Street are four nine point officers: Liebe Bradicich, PHILOTHEAN editor; Dorothy Shipman, Sodality prefect; Barbara Haby, Student Council president; and Iris Rigamonti, PRO-VUE editor.

Pro-Vue Displays

"SO ENDS THE ESCAPE OF THE ROVING REPORTER!"

Kathleen Pichard, Judy Britton, and Judy Loverde anxiously compare stories as Angela Leal and Liebe Bradicich calmly type their approved copies.

"NOW, IF WE ONLY HAVE ENOUGH ADS...."

Janet Yaeger, Mary Rose Sanford, Iris Rigamonti, editor, and Cynthia Vollmer assemble the paper for press.

The twenty members of the Journalism Class develop their creative and journalistic abilities by striving to make each of their issues of the Pro-Vue improve with age.

"AND THEN LITTLE RED RIDING HOOD SAID...."

Bobbie Billmeier, Rita Habermann, and Marianne Blair brush up on the art of journalism.

"The Way"

"IF EVERYONE LIT JUST ONE LITTLE CANDLE...."

Dorothy Shipman, prefect, prepares for the Act of Consecration to the Sacred Heart by placing the twelfth and last light in its place, symbolizing the promises made to St. Margaret Mary while Father John Sokalske looks on.

"...BUT, IF YOU READ THE SMALL PRINT..."

Father Erwin Juraschek helps Gail Voelker, Nelwyn Segel, and Dorothy Shipman discuss plans for the SSCA.

"AND WHAT COMES AFTER E?"

Jo Ella Osborn, Sodality librarian, files pamphlets for the Sodality.

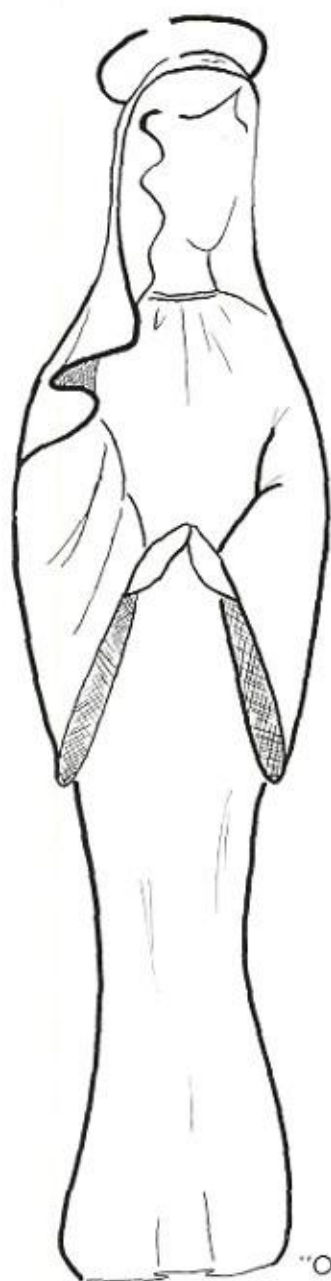

"To Jesus Through Mary" is the motto on which the Sodality is based. The aim of each Sodalist is to imitate the lives of Jesus and Mary more closely through daily Mass, Communion, meditation, and spiritual reading. Although the road is long and wearisome, each Sodalist realizes the value that comes from the self-sacrifice which leads to the ultimate goal, God.

"LOOKS EASY. DOESN'T IT?"

Father James McQuade, S. J., gives Sodalists Barbara Heye and Mary Sheeran their "map" for heaven.

"OPTICAL ILLUSION "

Putting up posters for the Sodality Poster Contest are Olga McConnell, Dolores Sarro, and Beverly Schweitzer. Dolores surveys the second place poster drawn by Dyanne Dingel.

"COME HITHER YE LATIN STUDENT!"

Amy Klein, Christine Gallagher, and Barbara Carle are seen preparing the altar for Mass in the library.

"THE BRITISH ARE COMING? NO, JUST A WOMAN DRIVER!"

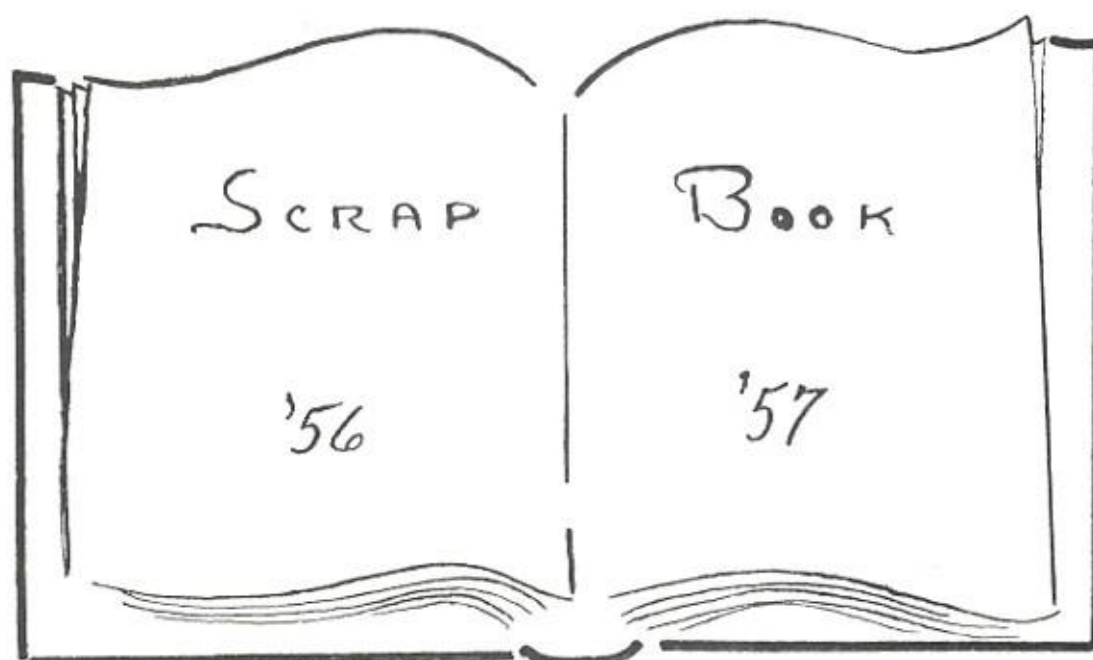

Rose Mary Berlon, Frances Schweitz, Virginia Lutz, Barbara Heye, and Mary Alice Peña prepare to "back the attack" on traffic accidents.

"ALL GIRLS? POOR CUPID!"

Marilu Townsend, Marianne Blair, Kathy Sauer, Betty Pack, and Carolyn Gordon prepare the Valentine booth for the "mad rush".

As red is a primary color in portraits, so is the Student Council essential in many ways to students. Under the guidance of Sister Maureen, sponsor, and leadership of Barbara Haby, president, the Student Council represents the student body in civic functions. Adding to the school year, the Student Council sponsors the Back to School Dance, and Courtesy Week, as well as many other affairs.

Student Council Promotes

Citizenship

"SEE YA' LATER, ALLIGATOR!"

Student Council officers Barbara Haby, president; Rita Habermann, treasurer; Jerry Lutz, secretary; and Kathleen Pickard, vice-president prepare to attend the ASC Convention in Midland, Texas.

"UNCLE SAM SHOULD SEE THESE!"

Linda Winters, Mary Rose Sanford, Patsy Wolff, Erin Hermes read the ideas expressed by students on citizenship.

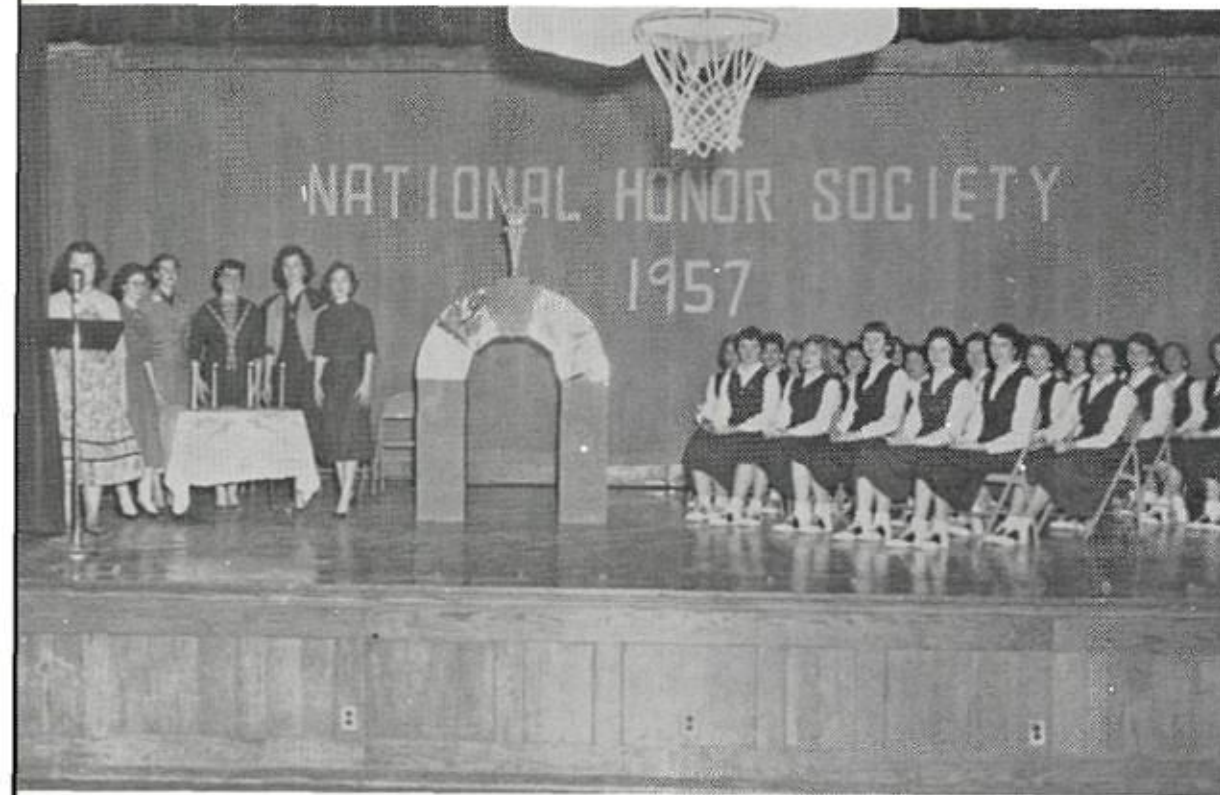

"OPEN THE DOOR, RICHARD!"

Marty Vollmer, Janet Kee, Vincy Ruffo, and Beatrice Braun, Student Council Representatives, work hard to keep their red bows by being courteous during Courtesy Week.

"TEEN AGE PRODIGIES!"

The NHS members, active and probationary, appear in full force during the installation ceremony.

Breaking the tradition of the centuries, the National Honor Society looks upon its members as "teen age prodigies" instead of "child prodigies."

Although members of the NHS haven't written a symphony like Beethoven or a novel like Dickens, they have proved to possess traits of character, service, leadership, and scholarship.

"LIGHTS, CAMERA, ACTION!"

Taking care of the installation ceremonies are senior members Jerry Lutz, Marilu Townsend, Barbara Heye, Mary Sheeran, Mary Vials, and Dorothy Shipman.

Character

"AND THEN LITTLE JOHNNY SAID....."

Judy Poston, Jo Ella Osborn, Josephine, Dominguez, Sarah Joeris, and Joyce Poston, CCD teachers, prepare for class.

"JUST AS OUR BODIES NEED FOOD SO DOES OUR SOUL!"

Barbara Heye "practices" her teaching ability during religion class before trying her hand at teaching the little ones.

"UMH? SO GOOD"

Marilu Townsend displays the third place honorable mention awarded to the CCD during Book Week.

"FROM THE MOUTHS OF BABES COME THE WORDS OF WISDOM!"

How well CCD teachers from PHS know! Each Wednesday teachers venture into classrooms so that unfortunate children may learn principles of our faith.

Even though the job is hard, the fruits of joy and success prevail when that one little child nods his head in satisfaction and understanding.

Languages To Future

"There's no business like show business." Members of the speech class know this to be true, but they also find that there is a lot more than meets the eye when a person is on stage. From a simple speech to a great play, it takes hard work and practice to make a good performance. Facial expression, gestures, voice tones, all these are learned and experienced in the club. From the one-act plays to the Christmas pageant to the talent show, each new experience brings new knowledge.

"IS IT THE NON-SMEAR TYPE?"

Rita Habermann and Ann Jaeckle practice making-up Mary Vials before the Speech Club play.

"ALWAYS THE CLOWN"

Study of facial expressions and gestures is the object of the file the speech members are preparing this year. Officers Carolyn Gordon, Eleanor Gates, Penny Winters, and Carol Koerner study part of this file.

Add of P. H. S. 'ers

"Latin Lives Today," the motto of the Latin Clubs here at Providence, is one of the many things concerning this language that the students are striving to understand. Many of the students seem to think it is just plain "dead."

This year at PHS the Latin students are trying to show the rest of the school through posters that Latin is very much alive.

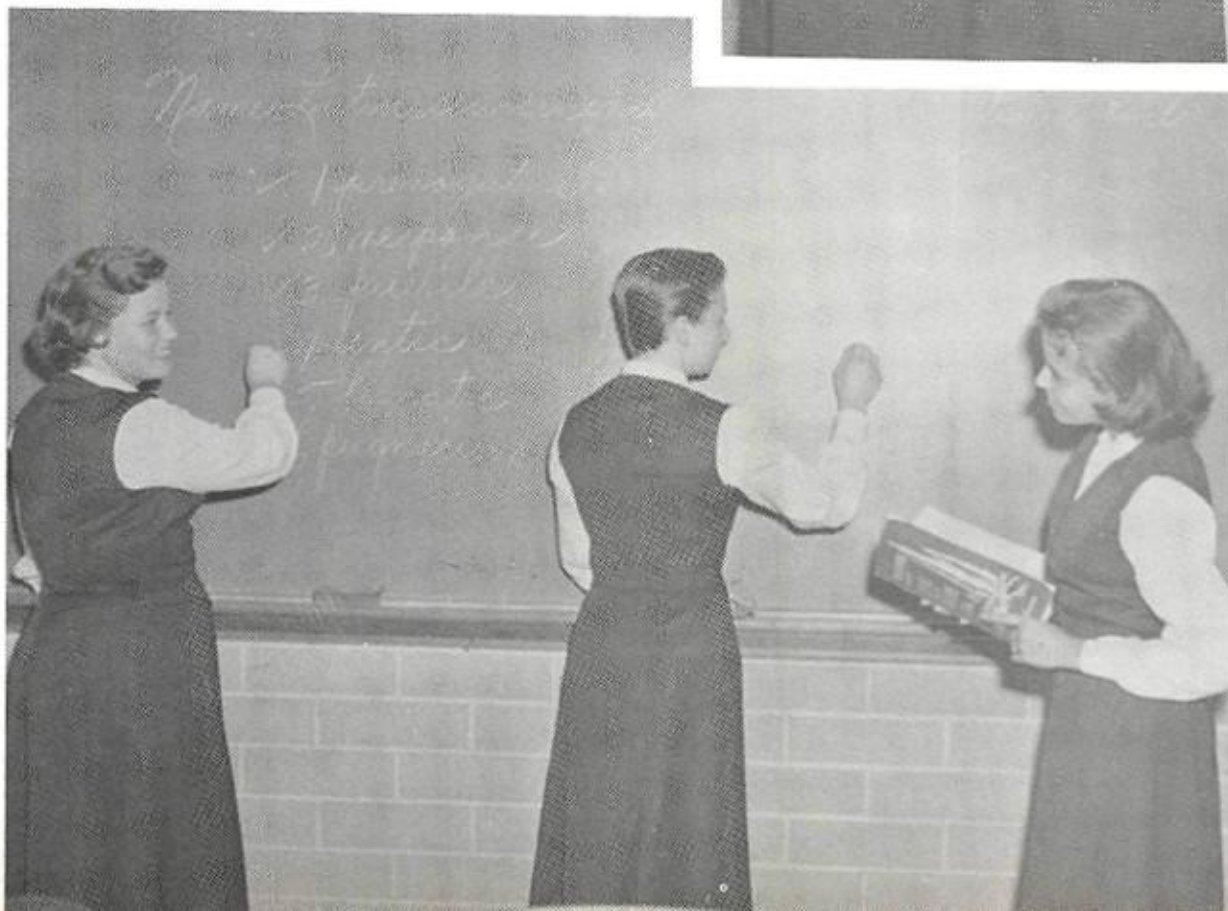

"I'LL BET A PENNY TO A PEANUT YOU CAN'T PRONOUNCE IT."

Virginia Knight, Kathleen Drifill, and Carol Sue Schmidt find reading the lives of the saints in Latin a tiny bit more difficult than reading them in English.

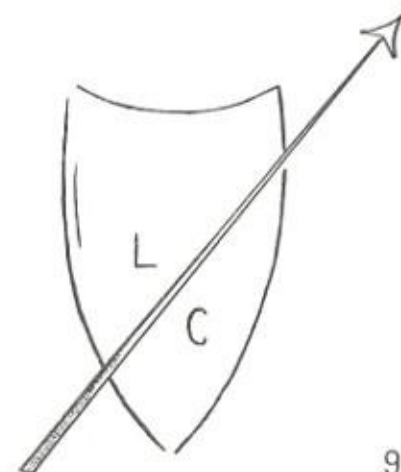

"SEE, THEY RESEMBLE ENGLISH --- FAINTLY."

Karen Holzhaus, Barbara Carle, and Carol Blakey add new words to their English vocabulary in the first year Latin Class.

"CONGRATULATIONS, YOU HAVE JUST WON THE $64,000 QUESTION!"

Charlotte Rauschuber, Barbara Gramer, and Virginia Kutac congratulate Mary Ellen Koch on receiving the highest number of points in the class on the nationwide Latin exam.

Science,

"FOR BRAVERY ABOVE AND BEYOND THE CALL OF DUTY."

Patsy Wolff receives her Business Club pin from Sharon Hays, president, as June LeBlanc, Margaret DeCock, and Barbara Wolff anxiously await their pins.

"DEAR SANTA...."

Joan Gardner, Sylvia Garibay, Patsy Wolff, and Mary Ann Bettge carry out the main project of the Business Club to provide secretarial aid to the faculty.

Just as secretaries are essential to large scale businesses, the Business Club takes pride in providing secretarial services to the faculty and organizations. These girls are gaining experience necessary for the future through the old saying, "practice makes perfect."

Business Clubs Search Out Vocations for Future

One never knows what kind of masterpiece will be devised in the glass jungle of the chemistry lab where the Science Club holds its monthly meetings. Although many strange things happen, the Science Club is helping girls to determine if science is their real career.

"AND SHE SAID THAT ABOUT ME?!"

Mary Rose Sanford, Jo Ann Parrish, Marianne Blair, and Angela Leal discuss plans for the next Science Club meeting.

"DO WE DARE ADD ANOTHER?!"

Marlene Reinhard, Crystal Bridges, Charlene Le Vision, and Mary Ann Brown work out an experiment during Science Club meetings.

To further their knowledge of nursing, some students here at Providence organized a Future Nurses Club this past year with Sister Eutopia, sponsor. In order to help the members of the club choose their career, the club's program provides speakers, films, and visits to the different hospitals.

"WE'RE THE PEOPLE WHO LIGHT THE LIGHT."

Officers of the Future Nurses are Judy Elder, Barbara Lutz, Laura McNeel, Margaret McLemore, Janet Yaeger, Patsy Elder, and Vincy Ruffo.

Future Nurses, Future Prepare P. H. S.'ers for

"OH! AND YOU'RE GOING TO BE ANOTHER FLORENCE NIGHTINGALE?"

Future Nurses Bobbe Billmeier, Margaret McLemore, Patsy Elder, and Vincy Ruffo practice the art of nursing through the Rosettes Junior Auxiliary of Santa Rosa Hospital.

The first words of the FTA Club song, "Within our hands will soon be placed the destiny of our race," describe the profession of teaching and the responsibilities which it holds. For our future teachers at PHS these words should be an inspiration.

"IF YOU MADE THEM, COUNT ME OUT."

Lucille Trevino, Erin Hermes, Marcia Weltens, and Linda Eagen prepare to sell cupcakes and cookies in order to help pay part of the expenses of the officers and Mrs. Harold Stimel, sponsor, to the FTA convention in Denton, Texas.

Teachers Careers

"JUST THE FACTS, MA'M."

Pat Rayburg, Mary Esther Arechiga, Mrs. H. E. Stimel, and Kathy Gruen buy their tickets for the FTA convention.

"LET'S ALL SING WHEN ANY LITTLE THING GOES WRONG."

Barbara Wagner, Billie Ruth Pearce, Jackie Anderson, Diana Garcia, and Pat Grimes discuss plans for FTA activities.

Paletteers Develop Art Appreciation

"IT JUST MATCHES YOUR EYES!"

Claire Cotter presents Louise Ann Villa, guest of honor and past president, with a corsage as Mary Lulie Velarde, president, holds favors at the installation.

"MASS PRODUCTION AT PHS?"

Socorro Espinosa, Claire Cotter, and Janie Pina prepare Christmas corsages as an "extra" for the Art Club.

"IS IT REALLY THAT OLD?"

Mary Jane Brown and Cynthia Ann Vollmer view artistic relics at the Whitte Museum.

Through visits to art galleries and exhibitions and by occasional lectures, the Paletteers develop art appreciation.

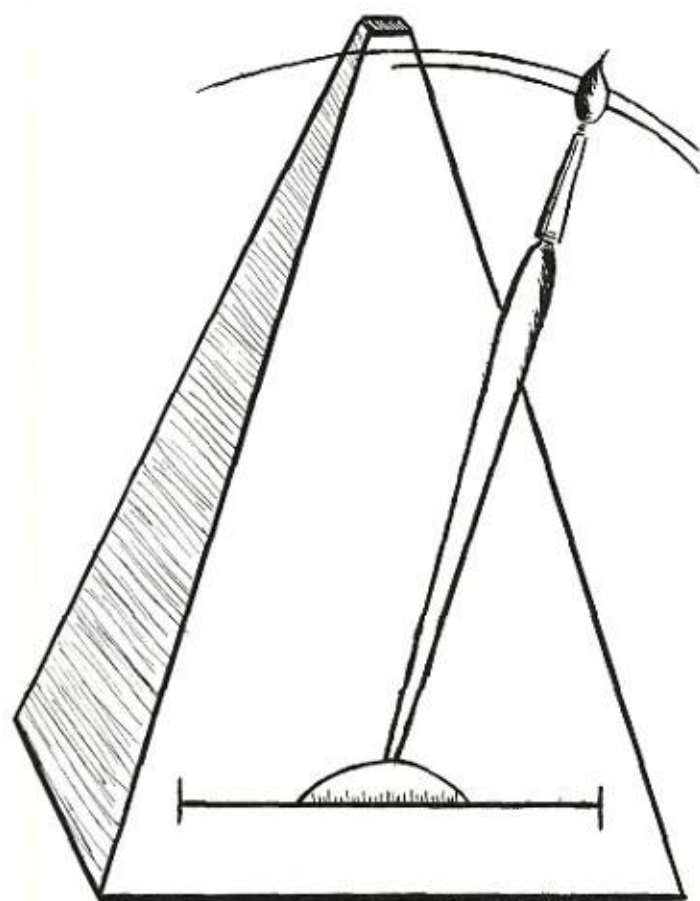

"WHAT'S THE BIG SECRET, GIRLS?"

Receiving their cards and pins from the officers to show membership in the Tri-M are the new members of the club.

As the artist adds tone to a masterpiece, so does the Tri-M add tone to life at PHS. This is done by promoting an appreciation of music among the students.

Tri-M Tunes up Student Life

"WITH THIS CORSAGE....."

Pinning a corsage on Mrs. Victor Alessandro, guest of honor at the Tri-M Installation, is Jerrie Lutz, mistress of ceremonies.

F. H. A. Promotes Home Leadership

THIS IS THE BEST PROJECT WE'VE EVER HAD!

Putting up the altar backdrop which they have just completed are Virginia Davalos, Ann Campbell, and Stella Hoyuela.

"Toward New Horizons," the motto of the F. H. A., has certainly been practiced by the juniors and seniors of the Providence Chapter this past year. They have worked hard and prepared themselves for the future as modern American homemakers.

In striving toward their goal, the Providence Chapter added to their many activities such things as good-will caroling at Christmas time, attending the Area, District, and State meetings, and helping with the U. N. Flag raising ceremony. The members contributed to the school by making the beautiful back-drop for the altar. This was their biggest and most appreciated activity of the year. Thus, the members of the Providence Chapter of the Future Homemakers of America had a very busy and worthwhile year in 1956 - 1957.

COME BACK TO EARTH, DIANA-IT'S TIME FOR THE MEETING TO START!

Making plans for their next meeting are these members of the Providence Chapter; Pauline Zuercher, Patsy Carvajal, Dianna Jo Galvan, Diana Porras, Patricia Ascension, Sylvia de Leon, Mary Jane Brown, and Ann Campbell.

Always working energetically for efficiency in home and group life were the Sophomore members of the Marian Chapter of the FHA. Their many activities kept them constantly busy as they not only worked for their own good and pleasures but for everyone as a whole.

Let's brief through the past year and see some of the activities which were headliners for the Marian members. As December rolled around, preparations were being made for the annual Dressmaking Contest. This contest was put on by all the members of the three chapters of the FHA. The Sophomore members were seen diligently working, putting up the decorations and ramps which helped to make the contest a great success. As Christmas time approached the members busily prepared Advent Wreaths which they sold for use in the home or at school. The members also kept up their FHA bulletin board, helped to plan and give various dances and socials, and learned many useful things such as gift wrapping and corsage making. The main topic of interest at the end of the year was the chapter picnic, which ended the year of service, achievement, and enjoyment for every member of the Marian Chapter of the Future Homemakers of America.

"IT ONLY HURTS FOR A LITTLE WHILE!"

Veronica Aldrete and Jo Ann Sebera review first aid techniques as part of a Civil Defense first aid course.

"MY HEART BELONGS TO DADDY!"

Carolyn Kotula, Sylvia Flory, and Frances Shipman seem to enjoy the idea of a date with their fathers.

"PUT YOUR LITTLE FINGER RIGHT HERE!"

One of the main projects of the Marian Chapter was making Advent Wreaths for home and school use. Seen working on them are Mary Ellen Brangan, Jeannine Vistuba, and Grace Cortez.

F. H. A., Promote Through

"QUICK! BRING A BUCKET OF WATER!"

Betty Ann Dietel and Phyllis Esparza contribute to Civil Defense Week by putting up their display.

The Monica Chapter of the Future Homemakers of America, the Freshman division, participates in many projects. They promote good will at Christmas by their annual Christmas caroling and by helping the poor. They provide wholesome individual and group recreation by holding at least one social during the school year. One of the main projects of the Monica chapter is its weekly cake sales. Members likewise assist the two other chapters in carrying out the FHA style show. They, like the other divisions, have a main item which they work for during the year. This is usually an article that they contribute to their school for its betterment. These things are all joined together to develop the interests of the members in home economics and the things derived from it.

"STEADY! OLD GAL!"

Carrying out one of their big projects of the year are Janice Richards, Carol Kettler, and Margaret Ann Quinn, who are busily filling ink bottles to be distributed throughout the school.

"GUARANTEED NON-FATTENING!"

Working on one of their main projects, cookie sales, are these FHA'ers, Beatrice Braun, Corrine Green, Mary Stanton, Mary Logan, and Adrinne Wille.

Red Cross Good Will Activities

"ON MY HONOR...."

Barbara Keller gives Red Cross pin and card to Joyce Migura for contributing to Red Cross.

"GEE, I HOPE HE GETS TO ME THIS YEAR!"

Gathering their articles for Valentine's Day, decorations for veteran hospitals, are Mary Esther Arechiga, Darlene Handley, Pat Masch, and Mary Claire Osborn.

"YOU'LL WONDER WHERE THE YELLOW WENT..."

Ellen Marie Rolf and Margaret Bonner fill Red Cross boxes for overseas distribution.

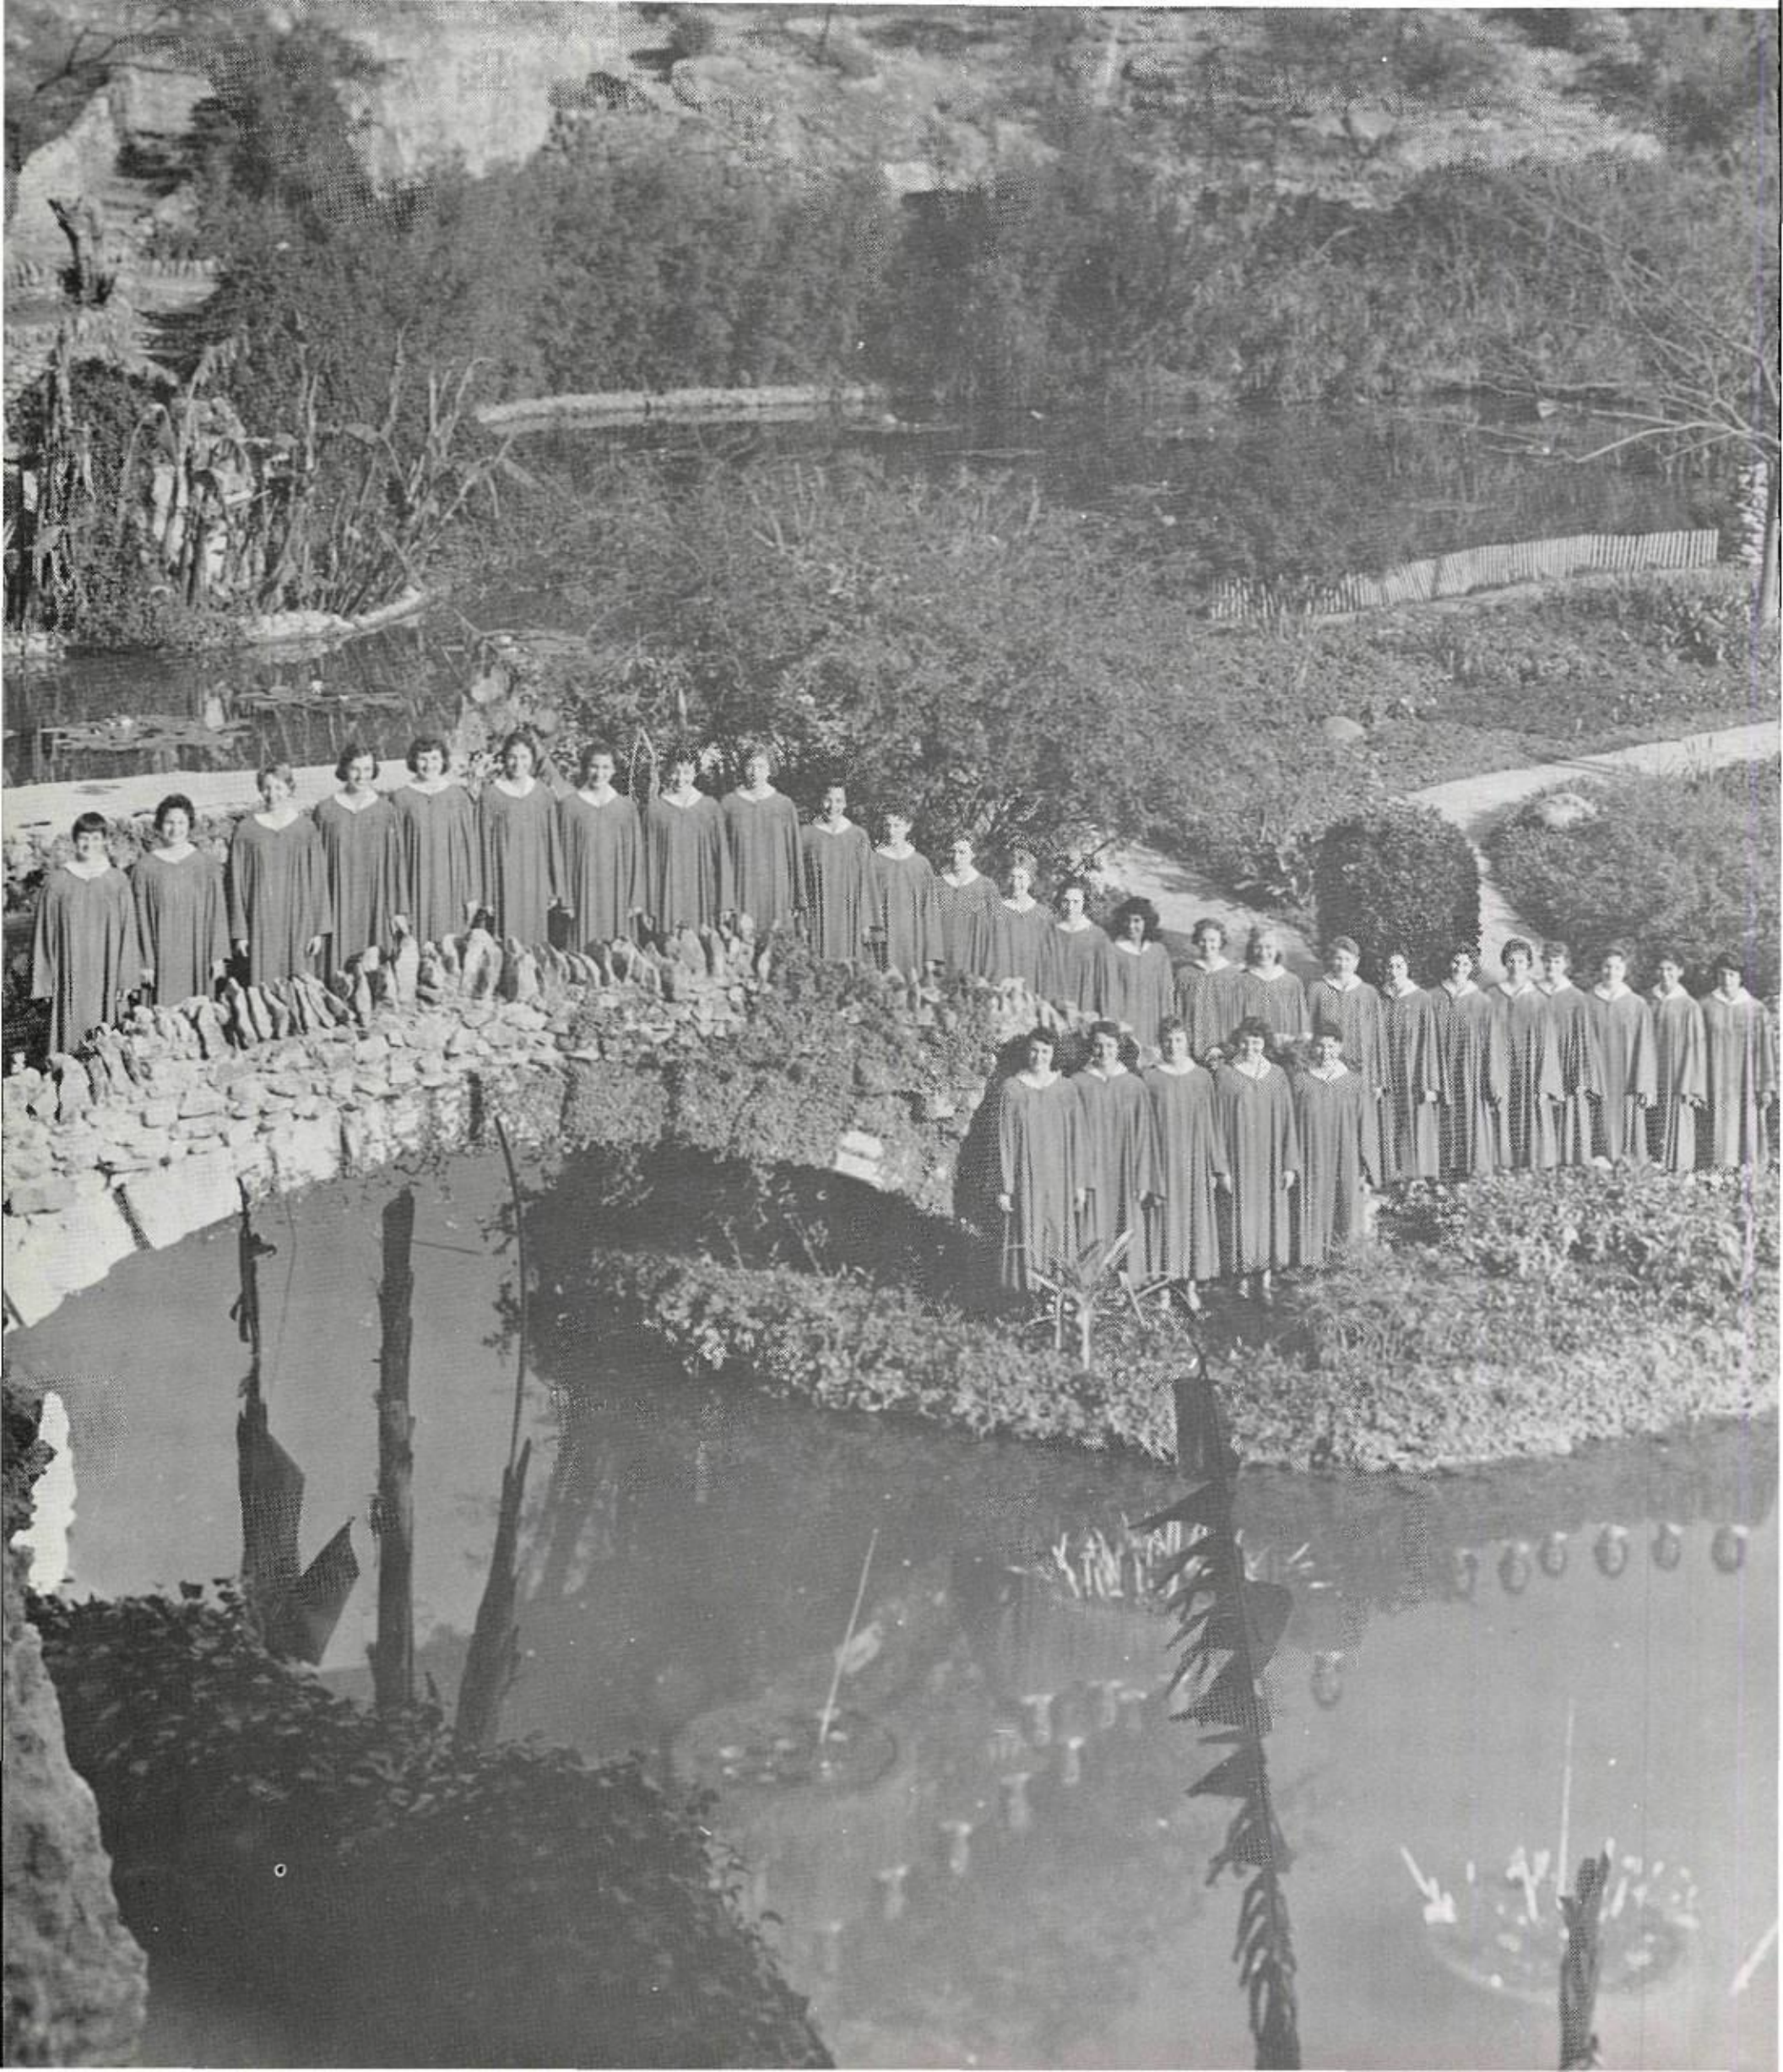

Contributing to the patients of various hospitals and to the needy overseas are the main objectives of the Red Cross. Each year, hundreds of boxes are filled with needed supplies and sent abroad. Throughout the year, tray favors and decorated coffee cans are made and filled with candy and cookies and taken to the hospitals for distribution.

Marian Choristers Reflect Music

In the front row are the officers of the Marian Choristers: M. Pinn, M. Brown, C. Koerner, B. Barcellona, J. Kowalsky. Also in the front are: A. Whitehead, J. Poston, C. Gonzalez, D. Dingel, M. Velarde, B. Gonzalez, S. Godoy. Standing in the back row are: A. Randol, V. Kutac, C. Rauschuber, K. Robertson, B. Mansfield, G. Jordan, M. Solis, L. Champion, B. Fournier, C. Gordon, B. Knape, R. Ranly, A. Stanush, C. Singer, C. Martinez, J. Arnett, S. Wright, R. Milligan, J. Poston, S. Joeris, S. Aguirre, B. Carlin.

Y. C. S. Introduces Christian Living

"THE ARTIST'S TOUCH?"

Marlene Reinhard, Maureen Ambrose, Carolyn Kneupper, and Betty Gail Hernandez paint scenes for the YCS bulletin board.

Training young leaders for the lay apostolate of Catholic Action is the main objective of the YCS. Under the supervision of Sister Cletus, the Young Christian Students meet weekly to discuss and express their opinions about the problems of young people today. The YCS is an organization which welcomes anyone who is concerned with Catholic Action.

"Ooooooooooooo-WHAT A GHOSTLY LOOKING CHARACTER!"

Marianne Gilkison shows Crystal Bridges and Rosie Flores a poster that has been made for the Spook Hop, while Sylvia Aldrete and Margaret Almazon enjoy another.

"BUSY WRITING NOTES??"

By the looks of the faces of Pat Carvajal, Mary Rose Sanford, Barbara Tollen, and Laura Campion, it doesn't seem that Charlene Watson, president of the YCS, is very busy preparing notes for the next meeting.

T. A. L. A. Promotes Careers Through Books

"ONCE UPON A TIME."

Mrs. Marie Perrenot, head of the children's department of the San Antonio Public Library, was guest speaker at one of the TALA meetings. She is giving pointers on story telling to Cynthia Vollmer, vice-president, and Ann Jaeckle, president.

"SO THAT'S WHAT'S IN THE SMALL PRINT!"

Joan Arnett, Jerry Barbera, and Theresa Gros, listen to Father Herbert Kramer, S. M., as he explains the contents of a book contract to future "would be" writers.

"I TELL YOU, IT'S NOT OVERDUE!"

Claudette Campbell, Anne Degnan, and Jo Ann Minkler, three desk assistants, are busy checking out books.

Members of the Teen Age Library Association serve the school library by helping to make and keep the library an attractive place in which to read and study. Each girl belonging to the club gives up some of her study halls during the year to help with desk service. The main project of the club is Book Week. During this week each club donates a book to the library. Climaxing Book Week is a tea during which awards are made for outstanding displays.

P. T. A. Works for Good of Students

Discussing some business for the PTA are Mr. Joseph Anderson, president, and vice-president Mr. O'Brien Yaeger.

The PTA is organized to promote the relationship between parents, teachers, and students. At their monthly meetings the PTA discuss means by which they can better the school for their children. This organization also sponsors games, parties and other activities.

Going over the minutes from the last meeting are PTA Officers Mrs. R. Haby, secretary; Mr. Milton Lutz, treasurer; Mrs. Kathleen Hermes, second vice-president; and Mrs. Gerald Billmeier, corresponding secretary.

Fiesta

Color

What could be more colorful than San Antonio during Fiesta Week! Even the modern skyline commemorates the Battle of San Jacinto by outlining the buildings with hundreds of colored lights. Highlighting the gay fiesta week is the Battle of Flowers parade, so named from showering the Alamo with flowers instead of the bullets that felled the famous fort. The Battle of San Jacinto won Texas independence from Mexico. The fiesta float at the left is one of the many displayed in the annual Battle of Flowers parade.

September Brings Study And Fun

In passing the equatorial line between Senior and Freshman dignity, the "high and Mighty" class entertained the freshmen at the annual Freshmen-Senior Party. Highlight of the party was King Neptune's Court.

At the proper moment, Davy Jones and King Neptune-Seniors-entered over the side of the "ship" and the captain announced that if they should find in the gathering a face which displeased them, the victim must pay the consequences. Several freshmen were tried and prosecuted.

"SKOL TO THE SENIORS, SKOL!"

"COME IN KING NEPTUNE!"

Ship's mates; Mary Kay Coffee and Aline Stanush, welcome Davy Jones (Mary Vials) and King Neptune (Dolores Sarro) aboard.

"SWING YOUR PARDNERS!"

"Lasso your pardners and we'll see ya'll at the PHS Roundup!"

This was a common slogan "HERD" for the Back to School "HOE-DOWN" given by the Student Council on September 14 on the school grounds.

Cowboys, cactus and longhorns would have meandered over to the "Chuck Wagon" for refreshments except they were only cardboard decorations.

"COME AND GET 'EM!"

Chaperones make themselves popular at the Chuck Wagon.

October 10 was the night the Seniors of '57 were bestowed not only with their rings but also the role of senior dignity. The rings were blessed and given out by Rev. Frank Montalbano.

"MY LIFE'S AMBITION ACCOMPLISHED."

Rev. Frank Montalbano, O. M. I., places the senior ring on Mary Coffey's finger. Bobbe Billmeier, mistress of ceremonies, assists with the proceedings.

October Brings Senior Ring Night

"I NOW PRONOUNCE YOU A SENIOR."

Father Montalbano marks Barbara Barcellona as officially being a senior by presenting to her the '57 edition of the senior rings.

"Sin is like dust; it accumulates." October 30 and 31 was set aside for each PHS'er to take a look at her soul and really give it a good spring cleaning during retreat. Each stepped lively with the aid of Rev. Ambrose Bronz, O. S. B. , as retreat master.

"BLESSED BE GOD..."

Benediction by Rev. Ambrose Bronz, O. S. B. , officially opened retreat at P. H. S.

Spiritual Atmosphere Rules During Retreat

"I WILL GO UNTO THE ALTAR OF GOD..."

PHS'ers keep in step by attending daily Mass.

School Song

First Place

"GOD BE WITH YOU"

Rev. Wayne Cozad, O. M. I., opens Color Day with Mass for all PHS'ers.

"AND YOU CAN'T HAVE IT."

Rita Gianotti, Vincy
Ann Ruffo, and Patti Popp show off the first place trophy won by homeroom 103.

"COOKING SURELY HELP-ED THESE GIRLS!"

Displaying second prize,
the symbol of their success,
are Carol Jean Braden, Mary Ellen Koch, Jerry Barbera, and Barbara Diver, members of homeroom 107.

Inspires Winner, 103

Color Day not only gives us a chance to express our ideas and artistic abilities, but also stirs up our school spirit for the year to come. On the appointed day all PHS bursts forth in an array of silver and blue with a few dabs of red, yellow, and black to complete the masterpiece.

"HAS THE SPIRIT OF THE AIR FORCE COME TO PHS?"

Winning third prize was Homeroom 206, carrying out the theme, "Notes for Miss Providence."

"IT'S JUST A TROPHY, VINCY!"

Receiving first place trophy from the Color Day judges is Vincy Ann Ruffo, 103's homeroom representative. Looking on and enjoying it just as much are the other winners.

Science First

"20,000 LEAGUES UNDER THE CARD TABLE!"

Angela Leal, Judy Britton, and Mary Ann Brown admire their display that took first place for the science club.

Book Week, sponsored by the Library Club, was held during the last week of November. Books were contributed by all clubs with the theme presented in the form of displays throughout the library. Climaxing the event was the tea during which awards were given for first, second, and third places. Also awarded were first, second, and third place honorable mentions.

"BOTH WORTH THEIR WEIGHT IN GOLD!"

Balancing their second place treasure for the FTA, are Barbara Wagner, Mary Esther Arechiga, and Billie Ruth Pierce.

"STARS AND STRIPES FOREVER!"

Student Council members Vincy Ruffo and Barbara Haby pin on their third place ribbon won by their display.

Club Captures Book Week Place Award

"SHOCKING, ISN'T IT?"

Showing off the honorable mention of the Providence Chapter of the F. H. A. are Martha Pinn and Mary Jane Brown.

"1% INSPIRATION; 99% PER-SPIRATION."

Mary Lou Garcia, Diana Zin-ninger, Janice Richards, Carol Ket-tler, and Kathy Kennedy show off their well-earned ribbon as they admire their display, which took third place honorable mention during National Book Week.

"THE PAUSE THAT REFRESHES"

Waiting for refreshments at the library tea, members of other clubs are served by Patti Popp and Theresa Gros, P. H. S. members.

Pilgrims Defeat Sophs; Win Volleyball Trophy.

JUNIORS 'ROCK 'n ROLL' THEM!
Juniors cheer their team from 107 on to victory.

VIVE LA SOPHS!
Sophs back up all the way their girls from 210.

Nationalities clashed as the Junior Pilgrims and Sophomore Frenchmen battled for the volleyball trophy to the bitter end. However, the trailblazing Pilgrims won over the smooth playing Frenchmen, gaining the trophy.

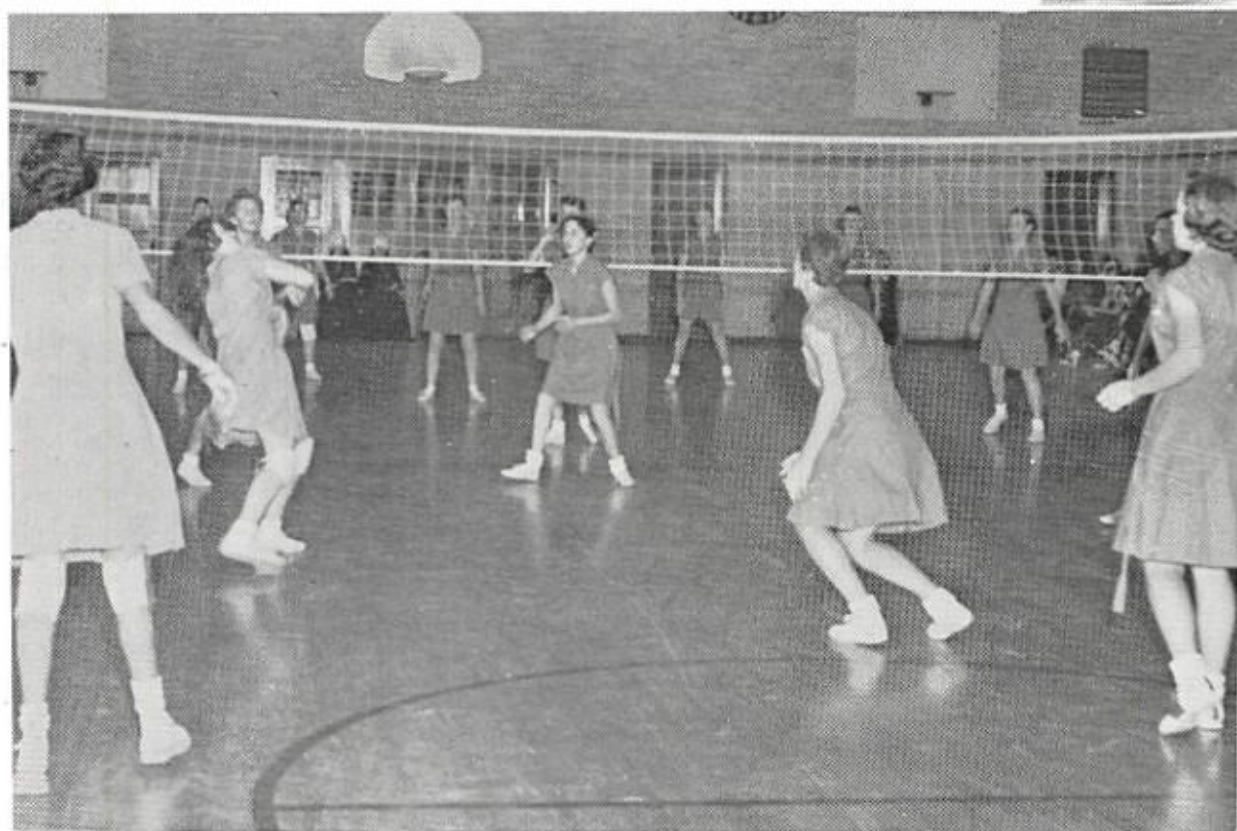

"ALL FOR ONE, AND ONE FOR ALL!"
Champs from 107 display the trophy for all to see.

"UP, UP, and AWAY!"
Juniors and Sophs struggle to get those points which are so rare.

"GOING--GOING--GONE FOR A POINT!"
"Frenchmen" and "Pilgrims" battled it out to the bitter end.

Marian Choristers

The glass slipper did provide a happy ending to "Cinderella," the '57 operetta presented by the Choral Club. Complete with pumpkins and court balls, Jean Kowalsky (Cinderella), Sharon Kowalsky (Ashes), Barbara Barcellona (Stepmother), Theresa Krizek, Marianne Gilkerson, and Martha Ann Pinn (Stepsisters) and James Spann (Prince) stepped into the leading roles.

The operetta was under the direction of Sister Mary Teresita.

"OH DEAR, MY NOSE IS SHINING!"

The Princess in Gold (Kathleen Picard) waits for expected proposal from Prince, James Spann, but sly court jester (Carolyn Gordon) knows better.

"AND THEY LIVED HAPPILY EVER AFTER!"

The Fairy Godmother, portrayed by Mary Jane Brown, grants Cinderella's wish as she dresses her for the ball.

Present Cinderella Operetta

"LISTEN TO ME YOU RAGGEDY WAIF!"

Jean Kowalsky as Cinderella receives scorns and abuses from stepmother Barbara Barcellona and her daughters, Theresa Krizek, Martha Ann Pinn, and Marianne Gilkerson, as her cat, Ashes, looks on.

"THE ROCKETTES"

Choristers sing and dance to spring melody as an added attraction to the operetta.

Miss Courtesy, One Act Play Add Spice to School Life

"ONE IN A MILLION"

Jo Munive, Miss Courtesy of '57, proudly displays her honors in front of the Student Council Courtesy display.

"YOU HAVE JUST WON THE $64,000 QUESTION!"

Rita Habermann congratulates Jo Munive as Cynthia Vollmer, Barbara Haby, Marilu Townsend, and Jerrie Lutz wait their turn to congratulate Jo.

"AND INTRODUCING OLD KING COLE, THAT MERRY OLD SOUL!"

Patsy Saenz, court page, Mary Ann Vials, Prince, Perivale Barbara Haby, King Hillary, and Carolyn Gordon, narrator, take part in the One-Act Play Contest produced by the Speech class.

The coming of '57 brought the new version of Miss Courtesy, Jo Munive, to PHS. She wasn't the only royalty in our midst, though, as the Speech Class merited an "Excellent" rating for their one act play, "The Ivory Door."

Plymouth Rock 'N Roll'

Presented by Junior Class

"CAMPUS CAPERS!"

PHS'ers and their dates enjoy rockin' at the Rock'n Roll.

As the season of Thanksgiving hit the air, the Juniors presented the annual fall dance, combining old language with new by coming up with the "Plymouth Rock'n Roll."

"PROMENADE THAT PRETTY LITTLE GAL!"

PHS'ers found it fun to dance around the rock that really rocked.

Activities Spirit To

"ON YOUR MARK...!"

Marian Choristers are seen caroling at the official lighting of the Christmas tree at Alamo Plaza. Pictured with the officers are Mr. W. W. Pinn, Fr. Edwin Juraschek, and emcee, Mr. Fraiser.

"OH, WHAT I SAW!"

The main attraction of the Snow Ball was this true-to-life image of Frosty.

"WALTZING IN A WINTER WONDERLAND!"

Dreamy-eyed PHS'ers dance to the music of Kotsie Keith and her orchestra at the "Snow Ball."

Bring of Christmas P. H. S.

Christmas time this year, as all past years, was a very busy one for all PHS'ers. Highlighting the season was the annual Christmas Pageant presented by the Sodality, Speech class, and Marian Choristers. Also on the agenda was the Snow Ball given by the Juniors. Throughout the season the Marian Choristers contributed their time and efforts by bringing Christmas Spirit into the lives of many people.

The Marian Choristers pose with the Archbishop and Santa Claus. It is traditional for these PHS'ers to carol at the archbishop's house during the Christmas season.

"ANGELS WE HAVE HEARD ON HIGH..."

Marian Choristers promote Christmas cheer as they carol for Bishop Leven.

Senior Reigns as Queen of Silver Symphony Ball

"MY FAIR LADY"

Escort, Charles Monaco, presents his fair queen at the Coronation ceremony.

"LOVELY TO LOOK AT"

Her majesty and the royal court, Jo Ann Sebera and Micheal Winters, Gloria Ramirez and Alex Castillo, Gail Voelker and Jay Farmer, Barbara Diver and James Bellew.

Queen Barbara Ann of Silver Symphony of the House of Barcellona, escorted by Charles Monaco, reigned from her throne of silver notes as queen of the Silver Symphony Ball. The girls in her court were Princess Gloria Ramirez, Duchess Gail Voelker, Countess Jo Ann Sebera, and Lady Barbara Diver.

The Juniors, in carrying out their theme, displayed beautiful lifesize musical instruments on the walls, with treble clefs decorating the tables.

"A PRETTY GIRL IS LIKE A MELODY"

Queen Barbara Ann, after being crowned by the former queen, Bunny Dever, is seen with her attendants, Gloria Ramirez and Gail Voelker.

Seniors Top Sophs; Reign As Champs

"AND THE SCORE GOES UP ANOTHER NOTCH."

Seniors and Sophs wait in expectation as the ball is suspended in "mid-air."

"CREAM OF THE CROP"

Senior basketball champions pose with their trophy. Left to right are Mary Ann Brown, Dolores Sarro, Diana
Garcia, Judy Loverde (captain), Anita Rangel, Aliene Stanush, Jerrie Lutz,
Darlene Handley, Iris Rigamonti, Betty
Rodriguez, and Angela Leal.

"EN GARDE!"

Senior Judy Loverde and Soph
Shirley Kirkes have a "friendly" jump ball.

Physical Education Encourages Seasonal Sports

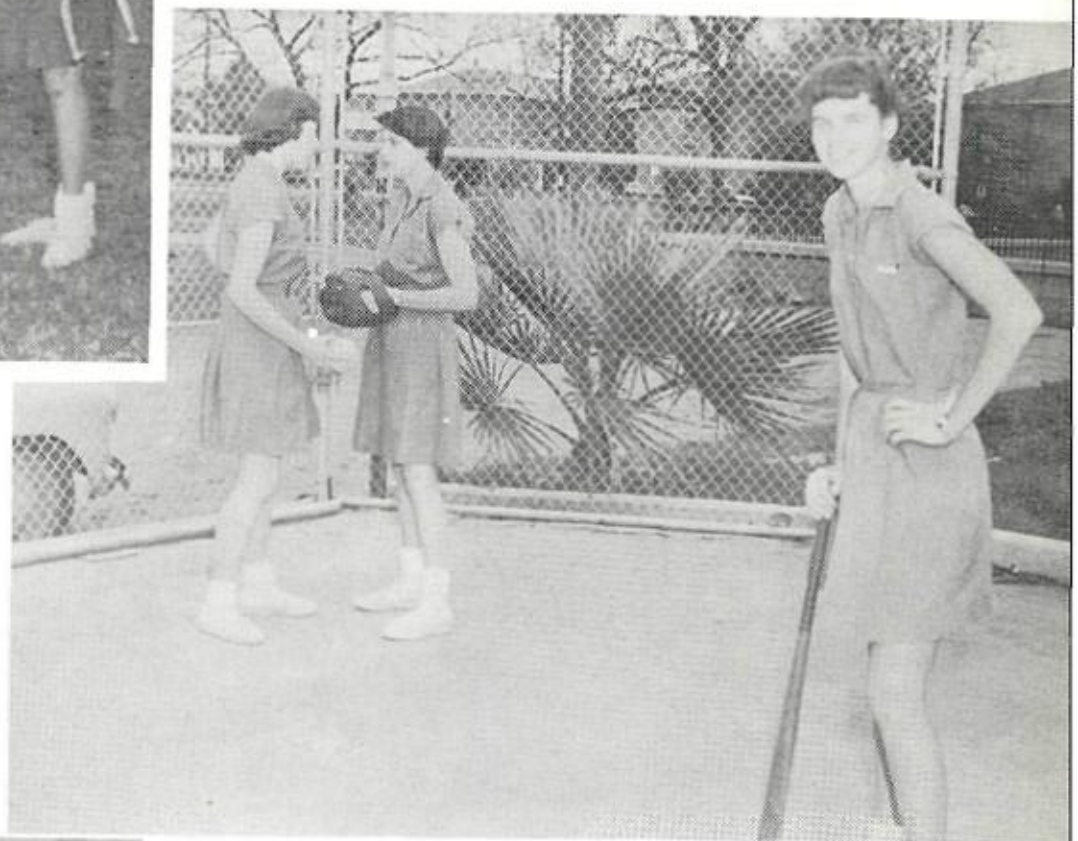

"CARRY THROUGH THAT SWING."

Sarah Bowick, Donna Truss, and Judy Heye pay strict attention as Mrs. H. E. Stimel shows the back hand swing.

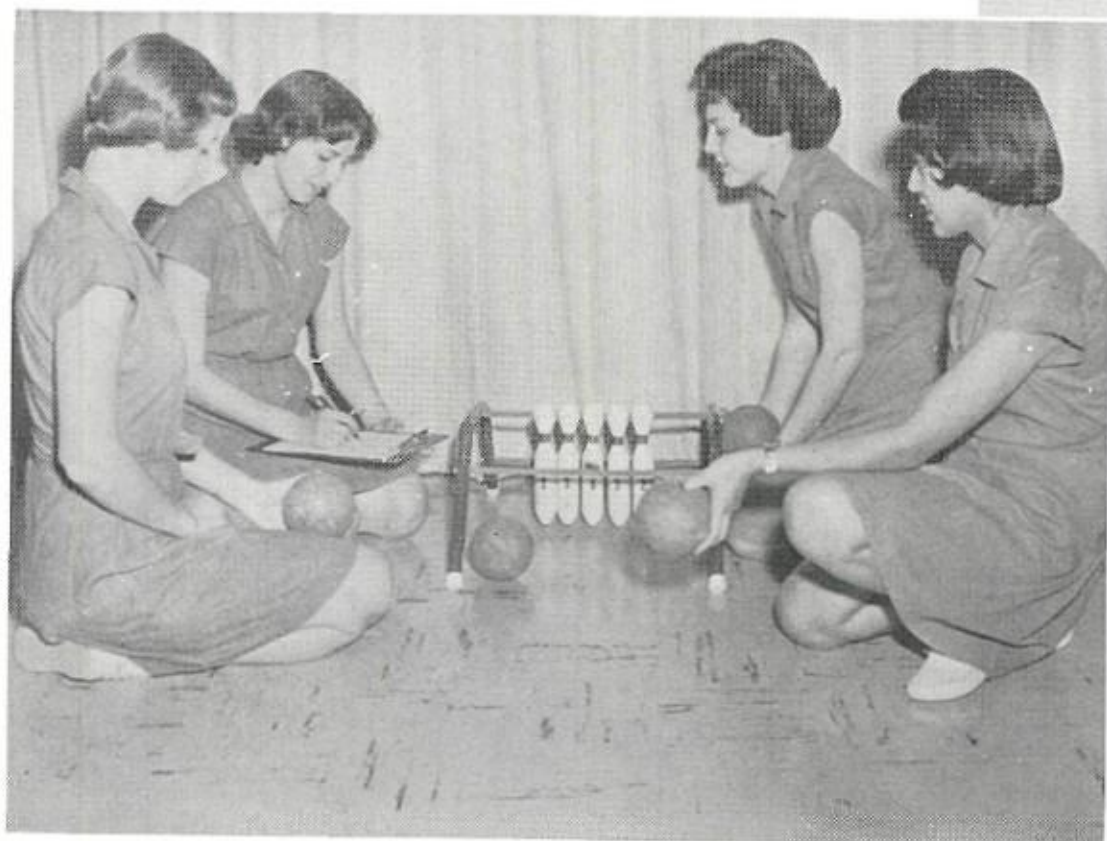

"LOOK OUT BELOW!"

Joyce Poston gives a mighty "heave-ho" as Judy Poston meditates on her make-believe ringer and Barbara Fry keeps score.

"BUT I TELL YOU, IT WAS A STRIKE!"

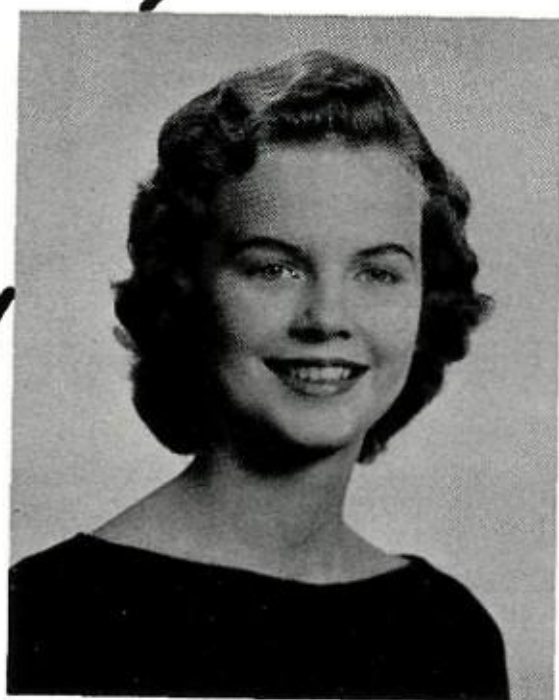

Pitcher Mary Emma Traylor converses with catcher Mary Jo Nitsch about the strategy to use on the batter, Pat Petraitis.

"YOU MEAN TO TELL ME THERE ARE ONLY 5 PINS!"

New to Providence is the duck pin game for rainy day activities. Gail Voelker, Barbara Lutz, Patsy Carvajal, and Ella Martinez figure out how to keep score.

HIGHEST ACCREDITATION

B. A., M. B. S., M. S. in S. W.,
M. A. in Ed.

Something interesting must be happening on first floor Moye to tear these PHS alumnae Mary Juliett Cherin, Josephine Leal, Valerie Lynch, Dora Lee Garcia, Phyllis Elder, and Barbara Ebest away from catching up on the latest news while pausing between classes in the Moye Rotunda.

Earnie Haack and Hal Ramsey, convinced that these possible students would "make a hit," try to recruit former PHSers, Liz Juenke (standing), Alice Yturri, and Louise Leal (seated), into taking a course or two at St. Mary's University in "all their spare time."
